KEY TERM DEFINITION

Recreation Vehicles (RV): Self-contained Motorised camping vehicles that provide internal sleeping accommodation, have internal kitchen and dining facilities including refrigerators and/or freezers, carry their own internal water supply, and have internal shower and toilet facilities with a holding tank that requires access from time to time to a liquid waste dump point. (Excludes all towed Caravans or towed camper trailers, whether self-contained or otherwise).

Camper Vehicles: Motorised camping vehicles of all types other than self-contained Recreation Vehicles as defined in this policy above. (Includes vehicles with roof rack-mounted camping facilities. For camping site compliance purposes also includes trucks, buses, vans, utility vehicles, station wagons, or sedans, in which people elect to sleep overnight. Excludes all towed caravans or towed camper trailers).

Caravans and Camper Trailers: Non-motorised vehicles that must be towed behind a motorised vehicle, which provide accommodation facilities that may range from:

- Basic camper trailers with little more than rudimentary cover for sleeping, and space for stowing conventional camping gear; through to
- Fully self-contained facilities, with internal sleeping accommodation, internal kitchen and dining facilities including refrigerators and/or freezers, own internal water supply, and internal shower and toilet facilities with a holding tank that requires access from time to time to a liquid waste dump point. (These are non-motorised and are expressly excluded from the definition of RV above).

Definitions rationale: In relation to what is, or is not, a ‘recreation vehicle’, the key distinguishing points for the purposes of this policy are that:

- The vehicle must be a Motorised; and
- The vehicle must be fully self-contained, as described in the RV definition above.
- Examples:
 - A motorised ‘camper vehicle’ that is not fully self-contained is not an RV.
 - A caravan, because it is not motorised, is not an RV.
