Foreword from the Mayor

I am proud to present the City of Greater Geraldton Access and Inclusion Plan – a document which guides our endeavours to make the community accessible and inclusive to everyone.

This carefully constructed document outlines the City's strategies and plans of action to improve access within public places and spaces, projects, events and engagements for all users. This is underpinned by working towards several key outcomes aimed at increasing the liveability of the Greater Geraldton community.

The Plan was developed from deliberative consultations and a community workshop that are underpinned by best practice principles and are a major component in making the community more inclusive and integrated.

Our aim is for all seven outcomes to be implemented and reviewed annually over a five-year period as we continually strive to meet the needs of our growing population and respond to the needs of people experiencing and living with disability. It is imperative to provide equitable access to the City's facilities and services to build capacity, support and respond to the current and future identified needs.

As an outcome of the City's efforts, an internal Access and Inclusion Working Group will be formed and meet regularly to review the progress, policy, and processes of the plan and to evaluate new initiatives and make recommendations.

We look forward to implementing the plan for 2024-2029 and seeing our commitment to providing equitable access to residents and visitors across all areas of our vibrant community.

City of Greater Geraldton Mayor Jerry Clune

I'm delighted to see the City of Greater Geraldton's priorities and actions towards inclusivity and equitability outlined in this important Plan.

A culmination of much hard work from City officers, key stakeholders and community members – the City of Greater Geraldton Access and Inclusion Plan 2024-2029 will guide the organisation's efforts with tangible and effective outcomes.

It is our goal as a local government to provide a community for both our residents and those visiting, which is accessible and inclusive. We have an extremely diverse population and it is a top priority for Council to cater for everyone's day-to-day life. This includes access to buildings, facilities, public open spaces, important information and quality service.

All in all, it is our aim for people with disability to have the same access, support, and opportunities so they can reach their full potential and shine.

We have seen some extremely positive achievements from our previous Access and Inclusion Plans, and I am confident our new Plan will not only build on this success, but aid in reaching even more goals and outcomes.

I would like to thank all those people who had their say in the future of access and inclusion in Geraldton – and I look forward to seeing the outcomes and actions come to fruition.

City of Greater Geraldton CEO Ross McKim

Message from the CEO

INTRODUCTION

The City of Greater Geraldton Access and Inclusion Plan is a major component in the City's commitment to facilitating the inclusion of people with disability through developing and improving its access to services, facilities, programs and events.

The whole community benefits from better designed communal spaces and adopting the principles of universal access design. Our commitment is to administer best practice principles through the Access and Inclusion

Plan to continually develop accessibility to a high standard.

The creation of this plan was made possible with the valuable contribution and feedback through an internal survey and a community survey followed by a community workshop to identify priority areas. We value and appreciate everyone's time in identifying the barriers they face every day.

This variable identifies people who report a need for assistance due to a profound or severe disability.

People with a profound or severe disability are defined as those people needing help or assistance in one or more of the three core activity areas of self-care, mobility and communication, because of a disability, long term health condition (lasting six months or more) or old age. This data provides an indication of the characteristics of people who report a need for assistance as opposed to the total population prevalent of people with a profound or severe disability. Legislative Requirements for Better Access

It is a requirement of the Disability Services Act (WA) that all local government authorities develop and implement a Disability Access and Inclusion Plan. This Plan outlines the ways in which the authority will ensure people with disability have equal access to its facilities and services. Each authority is also required to lodge its Disability Access and Inclusion Plan with the WA Disability Services Commission. The legislative requirements of the Disability Services Act (WA) 1993 (amended 2004), also frame and include the Disability Discrimination Act (Cth) 1992, and the Equal Opportunity Act (WA) 1984 (amended 1988).

The Disability Services Act (WA) requires that the Disability Access and Inclusion Plan addresses seven outcome principles and recommends developing strategies for each. The listed outcomes provide a framework for translating the principles and objectives of the Act into tangible and achievable results. Schedule 3 of the Act references the Disability Services Regulations, 2004, setting out the seven outcomes for a Disability Access and Inclusion Plan as follows.

Planning for Better Access

The City of Greater Geraldton, through its Strategic Community Plan, has committed to fostering democratic representation, social inclusion and community engagement. Under its Community Engagement Policy and Framework, it is required to obtain meaningful input from the community.

The City held an Access and Inclusion Community Workshop in August 2023, where the community had the opportunity to discuss improvements for access and inclusion.

Attendees discussed what access and inclusion meant to them and identified what the City should prioritise in the 2024-2029 Access and Inclusion Plan. The result was a co-design workshop between community members and City staff, aiming to create accessible areas within Geraldton and to encourage open communication between the City and the community.

To ensure the aspirations of the community regarding access and inclusion were understood a visioning exercise was undertaken. The draft statement was later presented to the group, discussed and finalised. The following vision was agreed upon:

“An accessible and inclusive community where diversity is valued, everyone belongs, feels safe, is supported, and can participate in the life they choose”

Consultation Feedback and Findings

The City of Greater Geraldton, through its Strategic Community Plan, has committed to fostering democratic representation, social inclusion and community engagement.

Government, organisations, and service providers need to work together in partnerships to improve access and inclusion.

Upgrades to ACROD bays to meet current standards where possible and increased availability of bays near the CBD.

Improved communication between the community and the City staff is needed to break barriers, understand community needs and work towards common goals.

Improved availability and distribution of information, including City events, services, venues and facilities.

A comprehensive plan for access and inclusion should be included in the public health and environment plan.

Upgrades of access ramps and tactile plates to the passenger side of ACROD parking bays at the QEII Centre, Stow Gardens and Foreshore Drive.

Develop an Accessible Tourism Accreditation for accommodation in the CBD, to ensure it follows and meets the access and inclusion guidelines.

Continued need to improve City footpaths, including those in the CBD and surrounding areas.

Partnership with mainstream organisations to promote access and inclusion and expand the information network.

Develop and create universal designs for future changing places at St Georges Beach, Pages Beach and within the CBD.

Increase the number of signs to enter facilities and location of services, ensuring appropriate location is considered for people with mobility impediments.

Develop Beach Access Wheelchair Storage at Foreshore Drive.

Install sliding doors or automatic door openers at public toilets and in public buildings.

Collaborate with local organisations, schools and other business to create awareness for changing the language around disability.

Create a ramp program for restaurants and shops in the CBD.

Fix the uneven edges of the walkways around the CBD.

Place more access matting at other beaches in the CBD. Starting with Midalia Beach.

Create spaces where everyone can go

Improve access and inclusion outside of the CBD in places such as Ellendale Pool, Devlin Pool.

In addition to the community workshop, 81 people participated in the consultation process via the community and staff survey available online and at the Civic Centre and QEII Seniors and Community Centre, (70% responded online). The majority were women between the ages of 26 and 64.

Overall, most of the responses and comments made by community members were positive and indicated the projects, programs and events the City has delivered in the past five years have improved access and inclusion.

Although the majority of respondents, 62% - 78%, said it is easy/very easy to get into and move around public open spaces. Access to these public open spaces remains problematic for up to 30% of respondents.

The majority of respondents, 75% - 95%, agreed features such as accessible toilets, easy to read signage and connecting pathways to building entrances were important.

Strategies for Better Access

Based on the insights gathered during the community survey and workshop, key themes and priority areas were identified. These include the creation of additional ACROD bays for parking, connecting pathways to building entrances, installing handrails on stairs and ramps, providing easy-to-read signage, accessible toilet facilities, and enhancing access to public open spaces such as beaches, parks, playgrounds, toilets, and sporting facilities.

To ensure an effective implementation of the Access and Inclusion Plan 2024-2029, the City has developed an Action Plan for better access detailing key targets, timeframes, and responsibilities for each outcome area and associated strategies. The Action Plan will be updated annually by the City's Community Development Team to maintain accountability, identify completed actions, add new actions and amend actions where required.

In addition, the City will apply best practice access principles to services, facilities, programs and events and will regularly review policies and procedures to ensure functional implementation of the Access and Inclusion Plan. The strategies within the Plan will remain throughout the five year period and the City is required to submit an annual progress report to the Department of Communities to evaluate the effectiveness of the actions from each strategy.

The City has developed the following strategies to direct the planning and implementation of the Access and Inclusion Plan, and each is allocated to one of the appointed seven outcomes by the WA Disability Services Regulations.
